

WASHINGTON.

President Grant and the Virginia Election.

He Accepts it as an Endorsement of His Own Policy.

Minister Motley Silent About the Alabama Claims.

An Investigation Ordered Into the Shooting of Americans in Cuba.

The President to Commence His Travels Again Next Week.

The Presidential Reconstruction Policy Endorsed by Virginia.

There is some dispute here as to the significance of the despatch sent the President to-day by the chairman of the State Central Conservative Committee of Virginia. Some persons were disposed to regard it as sarcastic; but it appears that at the White House it is not received in that spirit. The President regards the success of the conservative ticket as an endorsement of his policy, at least so far as the adoption of the State constitution is concerned. Governor Walker claims to be a Grant man, and so do many of the successful candidates, both State and Congressional. Viewed in this light the despatch of Mr. Daniels seems to have been sent in good faith.

Acts of Spanish Officials in Cuba, the Subject of Cabinet Discussion—Unjustifiable Excesses of an American Citizen—Insurrection of the Volunteers.

The attention of the President has been called to recent excesses in Cuba of American citizens without trial or color of law. The case of Speckman, in particular, has been made the subject of Cabinet discussion, and I have the highest authority for the announcement that an official investigation has been ordered. Not only have instructions been forwarded to consuls to inquire into all the circumstances surrounding the case, but in addition of some trouble, Admiral Hurler has been ordered to dispatch a war vessel to Santiago de Cuba to back up the efforts of our consuls to obtain reliable information, and if necessary demand satisfaction. All the information thus far obtained by our government relative to Speckman's execution tends to show that it was destitute of a particle of justification. The facts forwarded to you by one of your Cuban correspondents are corroborated by the intelligence received at the State Department, and leave no room to doubt that the execution was completely inexcusable on the ground of international law. Indeed, it would seem that outside of the city of Havana the Spanish authority is powerless, and that the volunteers do just as they please, without the slightest regard to the wishes of their superiors. There is reason to believe that the Governor of the district in which Speckman was executed was opposed to the act, but was overruled by the volunteers, who, spite of the protests of our own Consul and the Consul of Great Britain, put their victim to death without waiting for the shadow of investigation.

The Alabama Question Not Reopened.

The latest advices from Minister Motley show that though he has had several interviews with the British Premier and Secretary of Foreign Affairs, not one word has yet been said regarding the reopening of the Alabama claims controversy.

The President will next week accompany his family to Long Branch, and occasionally during the summer he will be absent from this city, but at no time will he be absent from the city for so long a period as the travelling movements will depend on the state of public business, which will receive his attention at Washington whenever its importance shall so require.

Darkies on the Rampage—Negroes Running the City Government.

Quite a scene occurred late this afternoon on what is called Theatre row. Two staid, dark-skinned, somewhat the worse for liquor, entered a drinking saloon, a few darkies from the National theatre and an insubordinate man demanded to be served with "two whiskey straight." The barkeeper informed them that they could not be accommodated, whereupon they commenced to curse and damn, not only the barkeeper, the proprietor and the establishment, but the entire white race. "You won't serve colored men with drink, won't you? Well show you whether you will or not. We've got this town now Mayor, Aldermen, jury and everything else, and by golly we'll make you treat us right," said the darkies, using all the white vildest oaths and curses. The proprietors of the drinking saloon behaved with great moderation under the circumstances, refraining from either molesting or replying to the darkies, who withdrew to the street and renewed their denunciations of the white race. In the meantime quite a crowd had gathered about the darkies, but no one attempted to touch them. After venting their rage in words for some time the pair proceeded to another barroom close by. One of them entered in a blustering way, while the other remained at the door. Some five or six white men followed the darkies into the barroom to witness the scene. The darkies went up to the bar and incontinently demanded a drink, which was refused by the barkeeper. Thereupon the darkies gave free vent to their rage, using the most disgusting language. The result was that he was knocked down, but whether by the barkeeper or somebody else is unknown. The darkies then spilled out of the barroom, and accompanied by his companions went in search of some policeman. In a short time returned with three policemen, but as he could not identify the person who struck and knocked him down, the police assistance availed nothing. The darkies threatened to return with colored reinforcements and clean out the drinking shops all along the row.

Another Horrible Outrage Frustrated.

Instances of attempted outrages by negroes upon white girls are becoming quite common in this vicinity. On the 5th of July, while a negro picnic was in full blast near the Virginia end of the Long Island Sound, a stout negro, who had wandered from the picnic grounds, seized a respectable white girl, who was accompanied by a younger sister, and attempted to outrage her. A white man, who happened to be near, was attracted by the girl's cries and arrived in time to frighten the negro off before he had accomplished his purpose. The negro ran towards the picnic party and could not be identified.

Minister Sikes' Instructions.

I have the very best authority for stating that there is no truth in the reported instructions to Minister Sikes to open negotiations looking to the purchase of Cuba.

The White House Grounds.

Some time ago the President gave orders to throw the grounds south of the Executive Mansion open to the public during the evenings. The grounds are very fine, and the opportunity afforded for recreation was eagerly embraced by clerks in the departments and others unable to leave the city. Last evening, however, a man and a woman were caught improperly by the private watchman of the grounds, and to-day the President directed that the entrance to the grounds be closed at sundown. It has been discovered that, in the grounds surrounding the Executive Mansion, as well as in the public squares and reservations, dissolute characters were in the habit of meeting for improper purposes.

Custodian of the Sinking Fund.

Secretary Postmaster to-day appointed General F. E. Zimnier, United States Treasurer, custodian of the sinking fund, and of such bonds as may be hereafter subject to the future action of Congress, with instructions that they must be charged to the account of the registered bonds and books opened, which at all times must show the true condition of the fund. He is also instructed to open an interest account with the sinking fund, and to credit that account with all interest due on bonds bought on account of the sinking fund or subject to the future action of Congress, and purchase new bonds with such interest, to be added to the sinking fund.

Certificates Required of Notaries Public.
The Secretary of the Treasury has decided that a notary public, attending papers to be used before the department, must procure a certificate of his authority from the clerk of a court of record. In every case, notwithstanding the name of such notary may have been filed in the department as already duly certified; for although his name may be filed in one bureau of the Treasury, it will require time and labor for the heads of other bureaus to ascertain this fact.

Business at the State Department.
Secretary Fish, who has been spending a few days at Garrison's, N. Y., is expected to return tomorrow. In his absence, Assistant Secretary Davis has been acting as Secretary of State. A large batch of foreign despatches were received at the State Department to-day.

The Iron-Clad Oath in Virginia.
The question of administering the iron-clad oath to members elect of the Virginia Legislature has not yet been submitted to the Attorney General for his opinion. The President is awaiting, before doing so, the receipt of the correspondence which called forth the letter of General Canby to the effect that the taking of this oath will be necessary.

Purchase of Government Bonds.
The Secretary of the Treasury has directed the Assistant Treasurer at New York to purchase three millions of United States bonds on Friday next, to be held subject to the future action of Congress.

Executive Appointments.
Henry P. Kelle has been appointed United States District Attorney for the district of New Hampshire. Hamilton Taylor has been appointed Collector of Customs for the district of Pearl River, Miss. Hiram A. Burt has been appointed Collector of Customs for the district of Superior, Mich.

Leave of Absence for General Butterfield.
Special orders from the War Department grant leave of absence from the last instant, and until further orders, to Brevet Major General Daniel Butterfield, United States Army, recently appointed Assistant Treasurer at New York.

Internal Revenue Receipts.
The receipts of internal revenue to-day are $264,111.

Statement of Monthly Disbursements.
The following are the disbursements for the month of June:—
Civil and miscellaneous.....$3,829,388
War.....4,939,293
Interior.....2,685,000
Indian.....22,415
The above does not include the amount paid on account of public debt.

Currency Balance in the Treasury.
The currency balance in the Treasury has been reduced about $6,000,000 since the 1st of July by the withdrawal of the necessary amount to purchase $5,000,000 of bonds and $2,000,000 to-day for the use of the army.

The New Orleans Customs Frauds.
Special Treasury agent Kinzella, now here, is writing a report. The understanding is, it seriously implicates parties in New Orleans in high standing, as well as former officers of the customs, not, however, including Kellogg and Stockdale.

TROTTING AT MYSTIC PARK, MASS.

Boston, July 7, 1893.
There was quite a large gathering at the Mystic Park this afternoon to witness a race between Hotsup and Myron Perry. Two races were advertised, but only the above took place, one of the parties in the other having paid forfeit. For some time before the race Messrs. Connelly and Doe were busy selling pools, and a very large amount was invested in these. Hotsup selling at the rate of $125 to $25. The result of the first heat changed this, when Hotsup had only some ten dollars at the call in 190, while the second heat Perry sold for $125 to $25.

Messrs. Norcross, Hamilton and Stewart were the judges. In exercising Perry cast a shoe, and considerable delay occurred before it was replaced, and then the horses commenced trotting, Hotsup sitting behind Hotsup, who drew the inside position, and Hotsup sitting Myron Perry.

At the second heat Perry made a very even send off was given, both stopping on getting the word, but directly setting down. On the first turn Perry got the pole and passed the quarter in thirty seconds, three lengths before Hotsup, but the latter went well to the half-mile pole, which was passed in 1:12, and the gap was lessened to a length and a half when they met the last quarter pole, but the latter seemed to fall off. After turning into the home stretch they again went up and a very fine contest was witnessed, but the gap could not be closed, and a break just before reaching the string put his chance out, and Perry won the heat by half a length in 2:20.

At the third heat Perry had attempted the start for this heat was made, when Hotsup lost his feet for a second. He lost his hind and at the turn was two lengths behind, but he was able to make up his loss to the quarter pole in thirty-eight seconds. Hotsup was then pressed forward and got up to Perry's side, but he was unable to close the gap, and he lost his feet and a length at the same time. On rounding the upper turn Hotsup made 10 or 12 lengths, and he broke the earth-shaking foot, but failed to pass Perry, who won by half a length in 2:22.

The following is a summary of the race:—
Mystic Park, July 7, 1893.—Match $2,000, mile heat, best three in five, to wagon.
1. Hotsup, 2. Myron Perry, 3. Hotsup, 4. Hotsup, 5. Hotsup.
Budd O'Brien entered Hotsup, 1 1 1
Budd O'Brien entered Hotsup, 2 2 2
Time, 2:24—2:30—2:28.

To-morrow morning the great harness race between the celebrated Dan Patch and Goldsmith Maid comes off at the Mystic Park.

NAVAL INTELLIGENCE.
The United States steamer Pensacola arrived at Portsmouth (N. H.) Navy Yard yesterday, from quarantine, free of disease.

Surgeon P. J. Horwitz has been ordered to duty at the Naval Hospital at Philadelphia.

Surgeon Edward Gilchrist has been detached from the Naval Hospital at Chelsea and placed on waiting orders.

Surgeon Edward Jackson has been detached from the Naval Hospital at Philadelphia, on the 20th of September next, and ordered to the Naval Hospital at Chelsea.

Naval Constructor Samuel M. Cook has been detached from the Boston Navy Yard and ordered to the Portsmouth (N. H.) Navy Yard, relieving Josiah Hanson, who goes to the Boston Navy Yard.

THE RECENT EARTHQUAKE. The earthquake of the 21st inst. was felt in different parts of Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Arkansas, as well as at other places, besides St. Louis, Mo. It was not so violent as to awaken a sleeping person, but being awake one could not be in doubt as to its being an earthquake. The air at the time was close almost to suffocation, and those who did not feel the immediate effects of the earthquake felt oppressed and uncomfortable. The first shock was the heaviest, immediately followed by another more gentle one. In many localities articles of furniture were thrown and small ornaments thrown down, but little damage resulted.

MONSTER MUSHROOMS.—An item for epicures from a letter from Cheyenne, Wyoming Territory:—"Mushrooms of gigantic size and extraordinary flavor have been found growing by hundreds of thousands all around Cheyenne. The writer saw some yesterday that weighed one pound, was ten inches in circumference and seven inches in diameter. When picked they were five inches thick. When picked from one rim to the other and from one to two and a half inches thick. I ate some of them, and they were delicious. It was most delicious in flavor and tenderness."

DEATH OF TWO CHILDREN FROM THE EFFECTS OF EATING MACHINES.—On Thursday evening, about six o'clock, three little children of Mr. Michael Murphy, 101 West 11th street, New York, died of the effects of eating machines. The children were three months and four days old. Their parents, not fully appreciating the danger, did not call in a physician until after the children had died. The two little boys were three months and four days old, and the girl was three months and four days old. The other child was a girl, only eight months old. The children had been eating from the machines for some time, and the parents had not noticed any ill effects until the children had died.

Secretary Postmaster to-day appointed General F. E. Zimnier, United States Treasurer, custodian of the sinking fund, and of such bonds as may be hereafter subject to the future action of Congress, with instructions that they must be charged to the account of the registered bonds and books opened, which at

THE NATIONAL GAME.

Atlanta, Ga., July 7, 1893.
At the Capitoline grounds yesterday there was assembled a jolly, good natured and old fashioned crowd as has been seen on any of the ball fields this season. The cause of the gathering was the contest which had been arranged to come off between the "muffins" of the Atlantic Club and the base ball reporters of the New York and Brooklyn papers. Mr. Tasse, President of the National Association, officiated as catcher for the Atlantics, and filled the position with much credit. The playing generally, both in the field and at the bat, was a vast improvement on that of Monday before. There was some excitement for the wild throwing and hitting that was at times indulged in. Mr. McKee, who was present and who officiated as umpire, after Mr. Elmhurst retired, fearing that the contestants on either side would become depressed if they found their party falling behind, provided a quantity of creature comfort from a disciple of Gambrinus, and thus enabled the players to keep their courage up.

The following score will give a fair idea of the playing on both sides. Andy Peck had donated a bat as a prize for the best batting score on the reporters' side, and Mr. Snyder had donated a ball for the man who should put the greatest number of balls in play. The Atlantics won by a score of 10 to 3. The Philadelphia Sunday Mercury, and the ball by Mr. Pangborn, of the Tribune.
